

An Institute for
Core-Plus Mathematics Facilitators
June 24-26, 2014
Kalamazoo, MI

Intended Audience:

- Experienced Core-Plus Mathematics professional development providers
- Experienced Core-Plus Mathematics teachers wishing to become trainers
- Curriculum leaders with the responsibility of providing professional development in their district
- Independent consultants.

Goals of the Institute:

- To become familiar with the new CCSS Edition of Core-Plus Mathematics and the newly published TCMS materials
- To provide networking opportunities for current professional development providers
- To provide and share resources for new and experienced workshop facilitators of the programs

Preliminary Agenda

Day 1

- What have we learned from 20 years of Core-Plus Mathematics professional development?
- Features of high-quality professional development
- Overview of the CCSS Edition of Core-Plus Mathematics and of Transition to College Mathematics and Statistics (TCMS)
- Modeling professional development based on a lesson from TCMS

Day 2

- Digging deeper into the CCSS Edition of Core-Plus Mathematics—textbooks, CPMP-Tools updates, and ConnectED
- Discussion of workshop outlines used by current Core-Plus Mathematics facilitators—What have we learned?
- Modeling and discussing ways to incorporate assessment into workshops—What have we learned?

Day 3

- Engaging in video analysis
- Discussion of using video in workshops
- Various working groups improve the Core-Plus Mathematics facilitator outlines and develop a TCMS outline based on the institute discussions and your needs. The outlines will be shared with all participants.
